The Wesleyan Conference.

A representative session of the Wesleyan Confer-more was held yesterday, commencing at 2.30 p.m., he president being in the chair. After ain,ing and grayer, and the reading and confirmation of the simules of the previous day's re-sion, some commun-ations to the conference were read by the secretary. The Primitive Methodist, Haprist, and United Methodist Free Churches desired to send deputations, The Frinkits Askinderics desired to send departations, and it was arranged that suce be received at 4.39 this day (Friday): that telegrams be sent to the secretaries of the above churches, and that the reception meetin, which is open to the public, be advertised in the daily papers. A large amount of routine business had to be dealt with, and somewhat delayed the conference. Among other things, it has been arranged to commence the Sustentation and Extension Society business this (Friday) afternoon, continuing the same during the evening. On Monday afternoon, foreign mission work is to be taken; Methodist Union (which had been printed) was circuiated among the numbers of the conference. The conference then picked up its work where it adjourned on the previous evening, and a recommendation from the Goulbarn District Synod "that Pambula become a Home picked up its work work and othere to the forrious evening, and a recommendation from the Goulburn District Synod "that Pambula become a Home Mission Station" was met with a resolution that the matter be deferred until the president had visited this station, as arranged, in a short time. It was resolved, on the recommendation of the Riverina synod, "that the Rock, Henty, Yerong, Green's Gunyah, and Mittagong, in the Wag & Waggs Circuit, become a Home Mission Station, and an unmarried Home Missionary appointed." Under the question, "what circuit are under obligation to provide for a married instead of an unmarried minister?" a long discussion smudd on the recommendations from the district synods concerned, with the result that Rylstone is to be required, if necessary, to take a married minister, also Armidale and the Bellinger River; the order in which the obligation is dealt with by the conference be required, if necessary, to take a married minister, also Armidale and the Bellinger Kiver; the order in which the obligation is dealt with by the conference being: I. Armidale; 2, the Bellinger; 3, Rylstone. On the recommendation of the Minister Minister be appointed to the Muswellbrook circuit. The circuits which, by resolution of the conference, were exempted from their obligation in respect of a married minister this year were: Balmain West End, Katoemba, Glen Innes, Cobarso, and Narrandera. On the recommendation of the scrulingers on the ballot of representatives to the general conference, it was resolved that the ballot be taken from 3.30 to 4.30 a.m. this (Friday) afteraoon. Other arrangements were adopted, on the motion of the secretary, relative to the result of the elections. During the afternoon session memorials from the Casino and the Ballina Circuits were read and considered. Casino asked either to be relieved of the obligation of a married minister, or that a married home missionary be appointed, or that Casino be remitted with the Lismore Circuit, with two married ministers to supply the circuit, and to supply the Casino pulpit as well as that of Lismore. It was reselved that Casino be relieved of a married minister if possible. The memorial from the Ballina Circuit saking to be relieved of its married minister was also considered, but could not be entertained. The conference then adjourned to 2.30 p.m. the following day. In the evening the then adjourned to 2.30 p.m. the following day. In the evening the evening the SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION FESTIVAL was celebrated, the Hon. Joseph Cook, P.M.G., presiding. There was a very large gathering from the sity and saburban schools—much crowding to secure a seat being an experience long before the opening hour last evening. Each school had its distinguishing badge, and upwards of 1000 scholars of the city and snuurban schools—were present. The musical arrangements had been undertaked by the Waverley Wesleyan Church choir, under the conductorship of Mr. J. S. Huthnance, Mr. C. R. Evans presiding at the organ. The programme included not only hymns, in which all the children could join, but anthems and solos by the choir, which were ably rendered, and londly applauded. The address of the chairman was not only sympathetic with Sunday school work, but also practical, and was well received. The report, which had been printed, was briefly referred to by the kev. C. E. James, the secretary, and the treasurer's statement was presented by Mr. T. J. Jessep, M.L.A. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. J. Hulme, of Hay, and Mr. G. Whalan, of Bathurst. The proceedings were announced to close punctually at 9.30, when the benediction was pronounced.

EVENING NEWS.

GLEBE CONCERT.

The second grand concert of the Glebe Musical Society took place very successfully last night in the Glebe Town Hall in the presence of a large and the Glebe Town Hall in the presence of a large and appreciative audience. The programme consisted of miscellaneous items, and opened with a spirited performance of the "Overture" to Balfe's "Siege of Rochelle" by the orchestra, conducted with skill and judgment by Mr. Arthur Massey. This was followed by an interesting interlude, not included in the programme; the Mayor of the Glebe and president of the society, Mr. W. Cary, taking this opportunity to present to the conductor, Mr. Massey, in the name of the members of the society, a token of their appreciation of his services in the shape of the badge of the society in gold, with interwoven initials. The presentation was accompanied by a few kindly words, to which Mr. Massey feelingly responded. The choir and orchestra then gave a well-balanced and harmonious rendering of Mozart's "Sweet Peace Descending," after which Mr. W. H. Lynch's sweet tenor voice was heard to advantage in Blumenthal's "Message." Miss Marion Liewellyn was cordially encored for her brilliant rendering of "Dear Bird of Winter" (Ganz), and added "I Dreamt That I Dwelt," a similar mark of appreciation being paid to her sister, Miss Clara Llewellyn, who sang Sainton Dobly's "Out on the Rocks" with much expression, with "The Fisher Maiden" as an extra number. Among the most interesting items of the programme were the violin solos contributed by Mr. Henri Staell. Chopin's "Nocturne" was given with exquisite breadth and sweetness of tone, the concluding cadenza being particularly fine; while Sarasate's "Dance" showed to advantage his skilful technique, and the flexible ease of the player's nimble fingers in the quaint pizzicato passages. Michaelis's "Turkish Patrol" completely took the facty of appreciative audience. The programme consisted high expectations raised by his performance in the early part of the evening by his masterly and artistic rendering of Simeon's "Berceuse," and Wieniawski's "Marurka." Gound's dainty vocativalse, "Light as Air," was cleverly given by the choir and orchestra, and the National Anthem closed an eminently successful concert. Mr. E. J. Massey acted efficiently as accompanist, and also assisted the orchestra on the pianoforte. The well-printed programme, containing a complete list of the performers and the words of the choruses, deserves honorable mention.

CONCERT AT WAVERLEY.

A concert was given in St. Mary's Church, Waverley, last night by the chorister boys, under the conductorship of Mr. W. Biggs, the organiat, There was a large and appreciative attendance. The choruses were well rendered, and the members of the choir contributed solos, duets, tries, and recitations. The event was held in aid of the choir fund, and was under the patronage of the Rev. R. M'Keown, the vicar.

THE VANBURG DRAMATIC COMPANY.
An excellent performance of "Woman Against the World" was given in Stratton's Hall, Ebley-street, Waverley, last night, by the members of the Vanburg Dramatic Company. There was a large attendance. Miss Hannan acted as pianist, and musical selections were rendered by Miss Ellerslie and Mr. Schatau.

FAREWELL CONCERT TO MISS EVELYN.
There was a large attendance of ladies and gentiemen at a meeting held at the Hotel Australia yesterday afternoon to arrange a farewell concert to Miss Constance Evelyn. Mr. H. B. Brewer, who presided, explained that there was every prospect of the concert, which will be held in the Town Hall on Saturday, Marca 27 bein; a great success. The following gentlemen were appointed an executive committee: Messes, T. Pitney Jarrin, Hague Smith, W. H. Foggitt, and Percy Bates, with Messes, H. B. Brewer and W. H. Parkinson as honorary treasurers, and Mr. W. H. Fellowick and Dr. Furness Barrington as honorary secretaries.

Dubbo Items.

DUBBO, Friday.—The report of the municipal valuers to be presented at the next council meeting shows that the valuation of property within the town boundaries for the year 1897-98 is £24,768, being a decrease of about 12½ per cent. on last year's valuation, and 33½ per cent. less than it was in 1893. A large number of tenements are unoccupied, and the rentals of all classes of property are very much lower than in past years.

The Tick Plague.

MINISTERIAL DISCUSSION.

The Minister for Mines (Mr. Sydney Smith) has been again in conference with the Queensland Home Secretary upon matters relating to the tick pest in Queensland. The two Ministers met in Sydney yesterday afternoon, and discussed the subject at some length. Mr. Sydney Smith produced a cable-gram from the Agent-General, as follows: "The Secretary of Agriculture, United States, America, states that no restrictions are placed on horses on account of ticks. Horses are freely shipped from tick-infested country to all parts of the country. There are no instances of disease having been disseminated by such animals." But as the experience of the Queensland Inspector of Stock did not tally with this view, it was decided that further experiments would be necessary.

The question of establishing dips for cattle passing into New South Wales was also considered. A proposal has been made that these dips be located on the New South Wales border, near what are termed the "crushes," where cattle passing from Queensland into New South Wales have usually been inspected. Mr. Smith's opinion is that if dips are used they should be placed on the rabbit-proof line, located about 130 miles from the border, on the Queensland side.

Mr. Smith wishes to emphasise the action of the Queensland Government in connection with the scourge, and he states that whatever new develop-

There is no attempt on the part of the northern colony to unduly minimise the evil, and in Mr. Smith's view. At the last meeting of the Ashfield Council an acrimonious discussion took place between the Mayor (Alderman Unward) and Alderman Melville. The latter took exception to certain portions of the minutes' of last meeting referring to an altercation which had taken place between the Mayor and Alderman Mills. Ultimately the minutes as read were adopted. A discussion took place on the question of the proposed appointment of the council clerk (Mr. T. Glassop) to the position of one of the valuers of the borough for the current year. Eventually it was decided to appoint the council clerk to the position. It was also agreed that £80 should be voted as remuneration for the work. Mr. J. A. Somerville was appointed to act in conjunction with Mr. Glassop in the work.

Water and Sewerage Board.

Colonel Rowe presided at the weekly meeting of the Water and Sewerage Board held yesterday. There were also present Measrs. Taylor, Davis, Buckle, Mansfield, Ahearn, and Macpherson. Returns were submitted showing that from July 1, 1896, to February 20, 1897, there had been collected 24149,543 18s 9d, as a rainst £137,585 13a 8d for a corresponding period of the previous year. For the week ended February 20 the average daily water consumption had been 19,789,000gal.; 1612yd of water mains were laid, 1042yd cleaned, 453yd lowered, and 12 hydrants fixed. On the application of Messrs. Gibson, Battle, and Company, the date for the receipt of tenders in connection with the exection of a pumping plant at Chatawood was extended five weeks. Arrangements were made with the Smithfield and Fairfield municipality for the attendance of the board's rate-collector on April 4. On the recommendation of the engineer it was decided to lower the water main in Mandulong-road, Mosman. It was ordered that the Camden Council be written to, to the effect that the board was prepared to proceed with the completion of the local water supply as seon as property owners sin-ed the necessary agreement. It was decided to call for applications for the position of auperintendent of works, Prospect Reservoir, rendered vacant by the denth of Mr. W. Wakeford, at a salary of £350 per annum, with residence, and a forage allowance of £62. Accounts amounting to £1519 2s 6d were passed for payment. ayment.

A presentation was made on Wednesday evening last by Messrs. Fisher and Macansh and staff to Mr. Norman C. Lockhart, their late manager of the common law branch, who has recently been appointed by the Public Service Board to the position of solicitor to the Land and Income Tax Commissioners. Previous to the presentation Mr. Lockhart and the senior members of the staff were entertained at dineer by Mr. Paul, jun., at St. Mark's Cottage, Darling Point. In proposing the health of the guest of the evening, Mr. Paul referred to the loss the firm and staff had suffered in his retirement. Mr. Lockhart replied. After dinner the company was reinforced by the other members of the staff and intimate friends of the guest, when Mr. F. C. Petrie (the firm's managing ciert), in the unavoidable (the firm's managing clerk), in the unavoidable absence of the members of the firm, in a few chosen absence of the members of the nrm. in a tew chosen words made the presentation, which consisted of a keyless half-hunter watch, suitably engraved, accompanied with ap illuminated address, the work of Mr. J. Wolinski. Mr. Lockhart suitably replied, and Mr. Paul's health having been proposed and duly honored, the rest of the evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music.

A multitude of his acquaintances were grieved to notice low his fine physique was slowly but surely being undermined by an insidious and mysterious malady. The disease baffled ali who attempted to diagnose it. Meanwhile Jarvis suffered agonies mentally and physically. His trouble developed at last so rapidly that he was this torture becoming unendurable, large quantities opium and morphia were administered to alleviate sufferings. He applied to a well-known doctor, but the gentleman, after a careful scrutiny, pronounced case hopelessly incurable, and gave him an order to the Director of Charltable Institutions. Jarvis went home to bed, and another doctor was led in, and agreed that all that could be done for him was in the director.

JARVIS WAS INCURABLE, and all that could be done for him was in the direction of deadening the pains which racked him. While Jarvis was patiently waiting for the kindly hand of death to each his sufferings, his attention was directed to an advertisement in the press, and thinking that a case therein stated resembled his own, he determined, as a last resort, to try Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People.

On Theomas Jarvis Invited Invited the science, learning, and the state of the interest of the medical profession.

On the humble home of Mr. Thomas Jarvis, 45 Crown-lane, Ultimo. He was discovered nursing a two-year-old baby, and his face declared him to be one of the happiest men in Sydney. He was up and about, and able to answer the knock at the door. Although pale, and bearing still the marks of a critical lilness and a period of pain, it was very clear that he was an invalid on the rapid road to convalescence.

In reply to the preliminary question, he said: "You want to know all about my case? Well, I am glad of an opportunity to tell you. The facts may be of value to those who are stricken as I was."

"How long were you suffering that I had to "Well, I monthly to the preliminary that I had to "Well, I monthly and the property of the profession of the majody it was forced to give with an accident. I was badly scalede while taking a bath in Pitt-street, Sydney. Since the accident I have been in falling health, and after four years of gradual development of the malady I was forced to give up my billet at the Globel Island."

"What were the symptoms?"

SAW WERE CUTTING MY BONES in two in every part of me. I had no control over my bowels or bladder, and was a nuisance to myself and everyone else, I was inceasantly shivering and shaking, and could neither eat nor sleep. On the 23rd March last I saw a well-known doctor, and he told me that my case was utterly hopeless. However, he gave me an order to the Director of Charitable Institutions."

Institutions."
"Did you make use of the order?"
"No; I came home and went to bed, and have been pretty well in bed ever since. Five weeks ago I could not walk across the floor; in fact, I could not get out of bed. I felt then that it was

ALL OVER WITH ME, and only a question of days when I would give up the ghost. My doctor was attending me, and did all he could, by opium and morphia pills, to ease the agony I was in. I was under him for five or six weeks. He came to the conclusion that I was suffering from locomotor ataxia, or progressive locomotor ataxy, a disease of the spinal cord, characterised by peculiar disturbances of gait, and difficulty in co-ordinating voluntary movements. He told me that I might last for ten years, and that I might never get the use of my legs." (Just then the patient kicked his legs about with energy to show that medical opinion is not infallible.) "Well, Just as a drowning man will grasp at straw, I grasped at an idea conveyed by the advertisement describing the sure exceled in the case of anometic describing the sure exceled in the case of anometic describing the sure exceled in the case of anometic describing the sure exceled in the sale of the sure exceled in the sale of the sure of the sure property of the property of the sure o

A friend who called in at this point said that Jarvis looked ten years younger that day than he did a fortinght previously.

"I can now," continued Jarvis, "have a cold bath, and all the feeling has come back in my legs, If I keep on going the way I am, I bope to be able to work in two months' time. I feel that I shall then be well enough to resume work as a bollermaker, and you know I have to be in the very plak of health and strength to work at that trade. I am RETTER TO-DAY than I have been at any time during the past five years. I ascribe all the change and benefit to these Pink Pills. They have saved my life. I am in no pain now whatever, and feel like a new mah. On the mantelpiece there is a box of OPUM AND MORPHIA excructating pain. But they can stay where they are, for I no longer need them. Everybody who knows me has been amazed at the change in me. They can hardly believe their eyes. My being about again has caused quite a sensation out here."

Having wished Mr. Jarvis continued speed towards recovery, our representative withdrew.

What Mr. Labor-Leader M'Gowen Knows.

Mr. J. S. T. M'Gowen, leader of the Labor party in the New South Wale. Assembly, was also seen in connection with the remarkable case of Mr. Thomas Jarvis. He says he ha. known Jarvis from infancy. He also knew that he had to give up his work at Glebel Island Abatroirs 12 months ago owing to a malady which he developed. He afterwards heard that Jarvis was bedridden, and that there was little chance of his recovery. He understood Jarvis was refused admission to the Sydney Hospital, as his case had been pronounced incurable. Mr. M'Gowen was therefore, like everyone else who knew the facts, astounded at the complete recovery of Jarvis.

CASE INVESTIGATED BY A NEWSPAPER REPORTER.

(From the "Australian Courier,")

Hearing of a remarkable cure in the suburbs of Sydney, and being anxious to verity the report, we despatched a representative to the residence of the later in question—Mrs. Margaret Layfield, 88 surrey-survet, Darlinghurst—who, in response to a request for a history of her sickness and recovery, told the following story, which is given in her own words:—

"Up to the spring of 1894 I was comparatively healthy, and sould carry but my household duties without feeling in the slightest degree fatigued, and wduid enjoy a sound and restrul night's sleep. Then I began to suffer from weakness and a feeling of depression. I had a runess and a gain at the chest and round the sides; I was also troubled with palpitation of the heart, and a sense of overhearing exhaustion, lost a great deal of sleep; in fact, I kept tossing about the bed all night. In the morning I awoke unrefreshed, and looked at the day before me as one of positive torture. Frequently I had to remain in bed sil day, and call in the assistance of a nelghbor, being really too weak to do anything, I also had a terribly languid feeling. Having inherited a good constitution, and being always averse to calling in a medical man, I endeavered to battle through my troubles, busing that a certain amount of determination word throw out this terrible mausea. Exhausted nature, flowever, at last gave way, and I was on the eve of schding for a doctor when a friend drew my attended to the company of the sterrible mausea. In the Shadow of Death.

(From the "Leamington Post.")

A CRIMEAN VETERAN AND GOOD TEMPLAR REThe attention of the "Post" has lately been frequently called to a remarkable cure in the case of a young girl living within a few miles of this town, whose life grit fiving within a few miles of this town, whose life was despaired of, but who was completely cured in a short space of time by that most wonderful of all remedies, Dr. Williams's Pink Pills. Since reading in almost every issue of the "Post" of the cures effected by the use of this medicine, we felt it to be a duty we owed our readers to investigate this case, which has so urgently been brought to our notice, and we are sure the interview will be read with interest by thousands of young girls all over Canada, as well as by the parents of such interesting patients. The young lady in question is not anxious for notoriety, but is willing to make her case known in order that others who are similarly affilted may have an opportunity sof being equally benefited. The symptoms in her disease differed in no way from those affecting thousands of young girk about her age. She was suffering from extreme weakness, caused by an impoverished condition of the blood, and her chances of life seemed to grow less to the property of the second of the chances of the second to grow less others, but when we brightness fade away as well as others, but when we brightness fade away as well and her chances of the second to grow less to the property of the second of the property of the second to grow the second of the property of the property of the second of the property of the property of the second of the property of the prop was despaired of, but who was completely cured in a

Dr. Williams's Pink Pills, as I tell everyone, in fact I should consider myself a heartless woman if I should not make this thing public, and endeavor to alleviate the troubles of my suffering sisters. I now feel happy and contented, being restored to health, and can fully appreciate those beautiful times of the poet Thomson, 'Health is the vital principle of biliss.' ''

Remarkable Trial in Surrey.

Mrs. Challen, wife of a smith on the Baynard's Park Estate, near Horsham, has recently (says a contemporary) undergone a remarkable trial. ''Before I was married,' says Mrs. Challen, "I was several doctors, but at last went into Brighton Hospital as an out-patient, until at last they told me that they could not cure me. ''After marriage I still suffered. I tried different remedies, It was only a waste of money, I suffered a few more bookes she was restored to perfect health and myself regarded my case as hopeless. I was unable to attend to household duties. ''About two months and pill-gave me relief. In semined to act on my nerves right down to the tips of my fingers. I was overjoyed, and so was my husband when he came home. I took the pills regularly, and now in an free from the dreadful pains I used to have, and in the female system, young or old.

ANOTHER MIRACLE IN SYDNEY.

A CRIMEAN VETERAN AND GOOD TEMPLAR RE-

Mr. Charles Terry, a Crimean veteran, of 485 Kentstreet, Sydney, having been lecturing lately in the Domain on the "Temperance Question," we (says the "Newspaper") dispatched a reporter to his residence, who gives the following verbatim account of his illness and marvellous recovery. Our representative found Mr. Terry a chatty old gentleman of 66, who seemed decidedly nelessed to be information on the second decidedly nelessed to be information on the second decided of the second to the second decided of the second to the second decided of the second decided of the second decided of the second decided of the second to the second decided of the second decide

I bear the Crimean decoration. I arrived in Australia at the latter end of 1877 in H.M.S. Sapphire, the Hon. Captain Merry. I then Joined the Diamond, under Captain Dale, on this station, and on leaving the ship quitted the service for good, having in all served in 17 ships in her Majesty's Royal Navy, during which time I was employed as Admiral's, Commedore's, and Captain's cook. In August of this year dispo; I found myself on Emu Plains, being in the employ of Messrs, M'Grath, follmongers, employed as cook. It was whilst there that I was taken ill towards the latter end of cally the activities of the latter end of the consistency of the price of the consistency of the price of the consistency of jelly. This man kept constantly telling me to clear out from Emu Plains and go to the hospital, therwise (to use his own words), he said, 'You will peg out.' Feeling that he was likely to prove a true prophet, I followed his advice, came to Sydney, and took up my abode at 485 Kent-street, where I am still living. I should, however, mention that both Mr, and Mrs. M'Grath gaye me the highest of references, and regretied that my bad health would not allow me to remain. (These recommendations, which were of a most satisfactory nature, he showed our representative, On my arrival in Sydney I suifered from ergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk, which my landlady procured for mergs and new milk,

(Mr. Terry here called our reporter's attention to the amount of useless physic he had consumed, amount of bottles reminder' one of the interior of a chemist's shop) I can speak in the highest possible terms of the marvellous curative properties of the Pink Pills. On my visits to and lectures in the country I shall consider it my duty to suffering humanity to recount of my astounding cure, and I trust I may be the means of saving the life of many a despairing mortal.—CHAS. TERRY."

Pale and Sallow Girls.

What can be more distressing than to see a girl drooping and fading in the spring time of youth? Instead of bright eyes, glowing, rosy cheeks, and an elastic step, there are dull eyes, pale, sallow, or greenish complexion, and a languidness of step that bespeak disease and an early death if proper treatment is not promptly resorted to, and persisted in until the im-poverished blood is cariched and the functions of life questions Mr. Terry stated:—'I joined the Royal Navy about 1853, and served during the Crimea in H.M.S. If you notice any of the above symptoms lose no time in procuring Dr. Williams's Pink Pills. They will assist the patient to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood and restore health's roses to the cheeks; bright eyes and lightness of step will surely follow their use, and all danger of consumption and spremature death will be averted. Wise and prudent mothers will insist upon their daughters taking Dr. Wiltiams's Pink Pills upon the approach of the period of puberty, and thus avoid all chances of disease or early decay. Dr. Williams's Pink Pills are not like other medicine, and their effects are permanent. They act directly on the blood, and thus it is they are so famous for these cures. They are
