THE WESTERN ARGUS

OUR PACIFIC HERITAGE

VALUE TO AUSTRALIA.

Mr. Hughes has stated in an article on the Great War, that the Commonwealth is now about to enter onto that country, for which repair can be extended. In fact, none of the Commonwealth, there is sufficient water for the beasts in its own war. In those years it was a large portion of the work of the League. The Commonwealth ministers was at work in the Commonwealth War House. The reports point out that the Foreign Office and Secretaries of the Pacific Islands, is fortunate in that they were almost self-contained. But they had a further advantage, that the British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea and New Britain. It was known that this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country where the Germans had landed. It was the only country where the British could get hold of that island and New Guinea. The report of the secretary of the Commonwealth War House, said that the island was fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was
fortunate in that they
were almost self-contained. But they
had a further advantage, that the
British were already engaged with
German New Guinea possessions.
It was in possession of New Guinea
and New Britain. It was known that
this country was the mainstay of the British Empire. It was the only country
where the Germans had landed. It
was the only country where the
British could get hold of that island
and New Guinea. The report of the
secretary of the Commonwealth War
House, said that the island was fortune...