Massacres Of The Lonely Hills

By N. C. HEWITY

A CCORDING to police and medical reports, a former bushfire in a valley near the railway line caused the destruction of a large number of human beings in a very curious way last night. The report states that the fire was started by some unknown person near the railway line and spread very rapidly through the valley. The victims, all known as blacks, were found dead in their homes or at their work. The cause of death was asphyxia due to smoke or fumes from the fire.

London Is As Ever—Except...

The Great Reaction

The Tradition of Christianity continues to be upheld by our present rulers. The recent events in London have shown that the Church is still strong and that the tradition of Christianity remains intact.

Some Garden Problems

By WARATAH

The garden problems of the day are the most pressing issues. The situation is critical and urgent, and the solution will require quick action.

Canberra Didn’t Just Grow

By NORMAN BARTLETT

The story of Canberra’s growth is one of rapid development and success. The city has grown from a small settlement to a thriving metropolis in a relatively short period of time.

Up Spirits And At 'Em!

By J. E. MACDONELL

The spirit of the people is high, and the atmosphere is one of excitement and energy. The community is united, and the future looks bright.