Absence of Ticks In Dry Weather

It is no use talking of a legal campaign to stamp out the tick. The campaign has been conducted in all instructions, but every effort fails to the same extent. Now that the National Farmers' Association and the National Farmers' Federation have been started in full operation, the tick has been able to create a country right through. Many tick allegations have been made at the present time. The actual losses of farmers for the time being are not very large, but at the present time they are creating a real public danger. It is very desirable, therefore, that every farm owner should be quite sure that his property is not in a state of tick infestation. But any farmer wanting to make a survey on his own property has the utmost difficulty. It is impossible to count tick numbers from a distance of a mile, as it is impossible to count tick numbers from a distance of a mile. It is very desirable, therefore, that any farmer wanting to make a survey on his own property should consult a professional man, who is specially trained to do the job.
