NEW SOUTH WALES PARLIAMENT.

From the "M. Mercury."}

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Mr. P. C. Parkin moved the adoption of the estimate of the House of Assembly, for the year ending June 30, 1876, in the sum of £131,639. The Attorney-General in reply said that the estimate was based on the principle of economy, and showed that no further increase was necessary. The House resolved itself into a Committee of thewhole House, where the estimate was adopted, and the Minister of Justice moved an amendment to the resolution, that a sum of £45 be set aside for the purpose of erecting a temporary building for the use of the House of Assembly, and for the payment of expenses connected therewith. The amendment was agreed to.

THIRD ANNUAL SHOW OF THE UPPER HUNTER PASTORAL & AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.

[From the "Herald."]

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Rop.

Mr. R. R. F. Smith, in a speech at the opening of the show, said that the scheme of the Association was to promote agriculture and pastoral pursuits, and to encourage the farmers and stock-keepers of the upper Hunter to adopt the best methods of farming and stock-rearing. The show was a great success, and the exhibits were of the highest quality. The Bishop of Maitland, in a address of welcome, said that the show was a great encouragement to the farmers and stock-keepers of the district, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among them. The Bishop also said that the show was a fine illustration of the principle of economy, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among the farmers and stock-keepers of the district.

TELEGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE.

[From the "Herald."]

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Rop.

The following telegraphic intelligence was received:

NEW SOUTH WALES.

(From the "Herald.")

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Mr. R. R. F. Smith, in a speech at the opening of the show, said that the scheme of the Association was to promote agriculture and pastoral pursuits, and to encourage the farmers and stock-keepers of the upper Hunter to adopt the best methods of farming and stock-rearing. The show was a great success, and the exhibits were of the highest quality. The Bishop of Maitland, in a address of welcome, said that the show was a great encouragement to the farmers and stock-keepers of the district, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among them. The Bishop also said that the show was a fine illustration of the principle of economy, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among the farmers and stock-keepers of the district.

TELEGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE.

[From the "Herald."]

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

The following telegraphic intelligence was received:

NEW SOUTH WALES.

(From the "Herald.")

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Mr. R. R. F. Smith, in a speech at the opening of the show, said that the scheme of the Association was to promote agriculture and pastoral pursuits, and to encourage the farmers and stock-keepers of the upper Hunter to adopt the best methods of farming and stock-rearing. The show was a great success, and the exhibits were of the highest quality. The Bishop of Maitland, in a address of welcome, said that the show was a great encouragement to the farmers and stock-keepers of the district, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among them. The Bishop also said that the show was a fine illustration of the principle of economy, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among the farmers and stock-keepers of the district.

TELEGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE.

[From the "Herald."]

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

The following telegraphic intelligence was received:

NEW SOUTH WALES.

(From the "Herald.")

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Mr. R. R. F. Smith, in a speech at the opening of the show, said that the scheme of the Association was to promote agriculture and pastoral pursuits, and to encourage the farmers and stock-keepers of the upper Hunter to adopt the best methods of farming and stock-rearing. The show was a great success, and the exhibits were of the highest quality. The Bishop of Maitland, in a address of welcome, said that the show was a great encouragement to the farmers and stock-keepers of the district, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among them. The Bishop also said that the show was a fine illustration of the principle of economy, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among the farmers and stock-keepers of the district.

TELEGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE.

[From the "Herald."]

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

The following telegraphic intelligence was received:

NEW SOUTH WALES.

(From the "Herald.")

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Mr. R. R. F. Smith, in a speech at the opening of the show, said that the scheme of the Association was to promote agriculture and pastoral pursuits, and to encourage the farmers and stock-keepers of the upper Hunter to adopt the best methods of farming and stock-rearing. The show was a great success, and the exhibits were of the highest quality. The Bishop of Maitland, in a address of welcome, said that the show was a great encouragement to the farmers and stock-keepers of the district, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among them. The Bishop also said that the show was a fine illustration of the principle of economy, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among the farmers and stock-keepers of the district.

TELEGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE.

[From the "Herald."]

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

The following telegraphic intelligence was received:

NEW SOUTH WALES.

(From the "Herald.")

Tuesday, March 21, 1876.

Mr. R. R. F. Smith, in a speech at the opening of the show, said that the scheme of the Association was to promote agriculture and pastoral pursuits, and to encourage the farmers and stock-keepers of the upper Hunter to adopt the best methods of farming and stock-rearing. The show was a great success, and the exhibits were of the highest quality. The Bishop of Maitland, in a address of welcome, said that the show was a great encouragement to the farmers and stock-keepers of the district, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among them. The Bishop also said that the show was a fine illustration of the principle of economy, and that it was a proof of the spirit of co-operation which existed among the farmers and stock-keepers of the district.