In Memoriam.

W. H. Barrington—In memory of my dear husband, who passed away at 11.30 p.m. on the 28th ult., aged 48 years. We have all been left in a most trying condition. But we must bear it as best we can. The funeral will take place on Thursday, the 3rd inst., at 2 p.m. The family and friends are requested to attend.

The Mudgee Guardian, Tuesday, November 7, 1889.

LOCAL BREEDERS.

A Great Success Again.

In the recent inspection of the Mudgee Agricultural Society's stock show, the following breeders were noted as having a large and varied collection of stock: Mr. George Young, of Bathurst, and Mr. John Smith, of Gulgong. Their collections were judged to be of the highest quality, and they received certificates of merit for their efforts.

The Collieries.

The local collieries were inspected by a Government Commissioner, who found that the conditions of work were satisfactory. The miners were well paid, and the working conditions were safe. The Commissioner expressed his satisfaction with the results of the recent improvements made in the mines.

The Sheep.

The recent inspection of the sheep in the district showed that the farmers were doing everything possible to improve their flocks. The wool clip was expected to be good, and the farmers were looking forward to a successful year.

The Wool Industry.

The wool industry was under scrutiny, and the farmers were being encouraged to improve their flocks and increase their production. The wool clip was expected to be good, and the farmers were looking forward to a successful year.

The Agricultural Society.

The agricultural society held its monthly meeting, and the proceedings were conducted in a most satisfactory manner. The society was making good progress, and it was expected to achieve its objectives in the near future.

The Cricket.

The cricket season was under way, and the local clubs were doing their best to attract new members. The matches were being played in a most enjoyable manner, and the spectators were enjoying the games.

The Mudgee Guardian, Tuesday, November 7, 1889.

Mudgee District Races.

A Great Success Again.

In the recent inspection of the Mudgee Agricultural Society's stock show, the following breeders were noted as having a large and varied collection of stock: Mr. George Young, of Bathurst, and Mr. John Smith, of Gulgong. Their collections were judged to be of the highest quality, and they received certificates of merit for their efforts.

The Collieries.

The local collieries were inspected by a Government Commissioner, who found that the conditions of work were satisfactory. The miners were well paid, and the working conditions were safe. The Commissioner expressed his satisfaction with the results of the recent improvements made in the mines.

The Sheep.

The recent inspection of the sheep in the district showed that the farmers were doing everything possible to improve their flocks. The wool clip was expected to be good, and the farmers were looking forward to a successful year.

The Wool Industry.

The wool industry was under scrutiny, and the farmers were being encouraged to improve their flocks and increase their production. The wool clip was expected to be good, and the farmers were looking forward to a successful year.

The Agricultural Society.

The agricultural society held its monthly meeting, and the proceedings were conducted in a most satisfactory manner. The society was making good progress, and it was expected to achieve its objectives in the near future.

The Cricket.

The cricket season was under way, and the local clubs were doing their best to attract new members. The matches were being played in a most enjoyable manner, and the spectators were enjoying the games.

The Mudgee Guardian, Tuesday, November 7, 1889.