Pioneers of the Richmond River

A meeting of pioneers of the Richmond River during a gathering, held which was attended by a number of men and women who were associated with the history of that area. This gathering included a number of speakers who shared their stories of the early days of settlement. The event was chaired by Mr. Charles Smith, who told of the difficulties the pioneers faced and the pride they felt in overcoming them.

Mr. W. Kilbey, a past president of the Richmond Historical Society, was one of the speakers. He spoke about the importance of preserving the history of the area and the role of the society in achieving this goal. Mr. Kilbey also highlighted the contributions of the pioneers, who had to overcome numerous challenges to establish settlements in the Richmond River region.

Other speakers included Mr. J. Weatherall, who spoke about the early days of settlement and the difficulties faced by the pioneers. Mr. Weatherall also discussed the role of the government in providing support to the pioneers.

The meeting was attended by a number of members of the Richmond Historical Society, who listened attentively to the speakers and participated in a question-and-answer session.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to all those who had attended, and the decision to hold similar gatherings in the future.
