Mrs. Percy Voigt (Miss Irene Inell) and her attendants, the Misses Glynsa Fox, Peg O'Hare and Mavis McLeash.

TANTAU-ANDERSON.

The marriage of Mr. Cecil Arthur Tantau and Miss Betty Anderson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Anderson of Upper Swanston St., was celebrated at St. John's Church, Kew, on April 7th. The Rev. W. S. Bunt, of St. John's, conducted the marriage service, and the Rev. W. S. Bond, of St. Paul's Church, Kew, officiated at the marriage ceremony. The bride, Miss Betty Anderson, was resplendent in a long train of silver tissue, bordered with silver jet and pearls. The veil of rare Spanish lace was worn by a friend, and arranged over a coat of silver tulle, while a sheaf of roses and gladioli were carried.

The little bridesmaid, Miss Roma Anderson, was stylishly attired in a coat of mauve and silver, with a veil of silver tulle and silver jet.

ROGGETT-MCDONALD.

The marriage of Mr. G. E. Rogget and Miss Margaret McDonald, eldest daughter of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McDonald of Northcote, took place at the Memorial Hall, Northcote, on April 11th. The Rev. J. T. Donald, of St. Michael's Church, Northcote, officiated, and the "Wishing Well" was present.

The bride's coat of ivory satin, bordered with white silk, was carried by her older sister, and a bouquet of white roses and carnations was carried by her younger sister. The veil of silver tulle and silver jet was carried by the bridesmaids. Miss Lilian McDonald, a sister of the bride, wore a coat of silver tulle and silver jet, while Miss Mary McDonald, another sister of the bride, wore a coat of mauve and silver, with a veil of silver tulle and silver jet.

MISS ROBERTS.

Miss Margaret Roberts wore a coat of silver tulle and silver jet, with a veil of silver tulle and silver jet. Her sister, Miss Mavis Roberts, wore a coat of mauve and silver, with a veil of silver tulle and silver jet.

JAMES-OVEREND.

An interesting wedding was celebrated at Queen's College Chapel, University, Melbourne, when Miss Mabel Overend, second daughter of the Rev. A. E. Overend, secretary of the Methodist Conference of Victoria and Tasmania, became the wife of Mr. Cyril James, of Bendigo. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. A. E. Overend, assisted by the Misses of Queen's, the Rev. J. B. Bullen.

The lovely honeymoon was spent in Blackbutts, and the bride wore a coat of mauve and silver, with a veil of silver tulle and silver jet. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations in her hand.

The ceremony, conducted at the Memorial Hall, Northcote, was attended by Misses Isabel Overend and Barbara James, and the bridal party included Misses Margaret Roberts and Miss Mavis Roberts.