UNIVERSITY FUNCTIONING PROPERLY
FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

"For the first time in history the University of Tasmania is functioning as it ought to function," said the Chancellor (Sir John Morris) at the university commemoration in the Theatre Royal, Hobart, yesterday.

Mr. J. C. O'Donnell said that during 1929 the C.R.T.S. results were not as good as those in 1928. "Then they were better than the previous year."

The results achieved by C.R.T.S. students were remarkable, and credit was due to them for their success, he said.

Teachers Have Important Role

In the struggle to maintain democracy, teachers had an important role, the Minister for Education (Mr. Partridge) said at a Democrat meeting when he opened the annual conference of the Universities of Tasmania.

He believed that teachers in the state were not maintaining the standards that had been achieved in the past.

Teachers had to be trained in their profession, he said, and if they were not, there was no hope.

FUNCTIONING

Important

The C.R.T.S. (Second Class), which has been compared with the results of the first-year class, has been very good, Mr. Partridge said.

The C.R.T.S. (First Class) have been compared with the first-year class and the results are as good as those of the first-year class, he said.

Mr. Partridge said that he hoped the results of the C.R.T.S. would continue to improve.

In the study of government, the students of the C.R.T.S. have been very well placed, he said, and he was satisfied with the work of the students.

A large crowd attended the conference.

CARDINAL URGES AID FOR MISSIONARIES

(CHINA urgently needed the help of other nations, and was it important that school children, by their prayers and sacrifices, should help missionaries in China, (the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York (Cardinal Spellman)) said at Hobart yesterday."

Cardinal Spellman was visiting Australia for the first time in history, and was welcomed by a large crowd.

"We have a responsibility to help those who are less fortunate than ourselves," he said.

The cardinal said that the task of the church was to give help to those who were in need.

He said that the church was doing its best to help the people of China, and that the work was being done by the missionaries.

The cardinal said that he hoped that the people of Australia would continue to help the church in its work.

FUTURE OF MUSEUM UNCERTAIN

The Hobart City Council recently approved the proposal of the Hobart and District Preservation Board and museum committee, which was to establish a museum in the city.

It was stated that the proposed museum would be the only one of its kind in Tasmania.

The council was asked to make a decision on whether or not the museum should be established.

There was a suggestion that the money should be collected by the council, but it was decided that the money should be raised by public subscription.

It is believed, however, that the museum would cost only $1,000 a year.

Men's Singing "Disappointing"

At Competitions

STATING he was unable to award a first prize in the Tasmanian championship series last year, the adjudicator (Mr. James Price) said that 1929 was a year in which no one could be considered to have won.

Mr. Price said that he could not award a prize to the best band in the state, as the bands were not up to the standard expected.

According to Mr. Price, the best band in the state was the 2nd band of the Launceston Grammar School, which was judged to have won the championship.

Victorian Tobacco

Down By 94 pc

MILLS: -- the year 1929 was a difficult one for the tobacco trade, with prices falling and production dropping.

The production of tobacco in Victoria was down by 94 per cent, compared with the previous year.
