Cattle Need Transport

Future of Australia's N.T. Lies in Railways

By MOLLY BAYNE, Lecturer in Economic Geography, University of Melbourne

Port and inland transport in the Northern Territory are doubtful if the $250,000 cattle development road under construction between Timber Creek and the West Australian border will ever be used.

In spite of the cost, sensational margins that the only answer to the N.T.'s transport problem is a proper railway.

KEEP THE SEA ROUTES OPEN

The Federal Government's resolve to keep the north-Pacific sea trade open is being tested by a court decision, which the Government is unlikely to challenge.

A recent decision of the High Court of Australia has ruled that the federal government has the power to exclude foreign ships from the trade.

Television Work Has Funny Side

Letty Cudgen was just as funny off the stage as on when yesterday she talked to the Players' Association about television.
