Slovakia Taken Over By German Military

LONDON, Aug. 18. The Associated Press correspondent at Bratislava says the radio station has announced:

"Owing to the existing situation Germany has taken military possession of Slovakia."

Hitler's Danzig Plan Expected In A Few Days

There is reason to believe that the recent German announcement to the effect that 'a settlement in Danzig may be put into effect in the next few days,' is probably not without foundation.

Two Late to Back Down

"The Times" Berlin correspondent says: "Ourami declares that Germany would be able to back down."

Mary Maguire Suffers Relapse: Taken to Country

From VENA YATES

"The Telegraph" Special Representative in London.

LONDON, August 18. Today, Mary Maguire, wife of the late Mr. H. Maguire, of the London fog, has suffered a relapse. She has been undergoing treatment for seven acute attacks, trouble, to his house "Sandhill," near Sandwich in Kent.

The fact that Mr. Maguire was a noted amateur artist, and that his house is a place of interest to artists and art lovers, has caused a great deal of excitement among the people of Sandwich.

Run of Records In Show Attendances

Broken, But Expected 400,000 Will Be Passed

The Royal National Association has a chance of the 400,000 figure for the total attendances at the 1939 Show being passed.

A general view of the site of the Mundoolun One of State's Oldest Stations, Burnt

The homestead on one of the oldest stations in Queensland, Mundoolun Station, was completely destroyed by fire about five o'clock this morning. The fire was the blazes that the owner, Mr. Douglas Fraser, and the other occupants of the house escaped only in their night attire.

How the fire started is still unknown, but Mr. Fraser was awakened about five o'clock yesterday morning. He took little notice of the fire, thinking another object fell he lay out of bed, opened the door and was met by a wall of flame. The rest of the house was filled with smoke, and the occupants were only saved by the last moments.

Famous Family Relics Gone

The family jewels and other heirlooms, which were lost when the homestead was destroyed, were insured for over $100,000.

Run of Records In Show Attendances

Broken, But Expected 400,000 Will Be Passed

The Royal National Association has a chance of the 400,000 figure for the total attendances at the 1939 Show being passed.

A general view of the site of the Mundoolun One of State's Oldest Stations, Burnt

The homestead on one of the oldest stations in Queensland, Mundoolun Station, was completely destroyed by fire about five o'clock this morning. The fire was the blazes that the owner, Mr. Douglas Fraser, and the other occupants of the house escaped only in their night attire.

How the fire started is still unknown, but Mr. Fraser was awakened about five o'clock yesterday morning. He took little notice of the fire, thinking another object fell he lay out of bed, opened the door and was met by a wall of flame. The rest of the house was filled with smoke, and the occupants were only saved by the last moments.

Famous Family Relics Gone

The family jewels and other heirlooms, which were lost when the homestead was destroyed, were insured for over $100,000.

Run of Records In Show Attendances

Broken, But Expected 400,000 Will Be Passed

The Royal National Association has a chance of the 400,000 figure for the total attendances at the 1939 Show being passed.

A general view of the site of the Mundoolun One of State's Oldest Stations, Burnt

The homestead on one of the oldest stations in Queensland, Mundoolun Station, was completely destroyed by fire about five o'clock this morning. The fire was the blazes that the owner, Mr. Douglas Fraser, and the other occupants of the house escaped only in their night attire.

How the fire started is still unknown, but Mr. Fraser was awakened about five o'clock yesterday morning. He took little notice of the fire, thinking another object fell he lay out of bed, opened the door and was met by a wall of flame. The rest of the house was filled with smoke, and the occupants were only saved by the last moments.

Famous Family Relics Gone

The family jewels and other heirlooms, which were lost when the homestead was destroyed, were insured for over $100,000.

Run of Records In Show Attendances

Broken, But Expected 400,000 Will Be Passed

The Royal National Association has a chance of the 400,000 figure for the total attendances at the 1939 Show being passed.

A general view of the site of the Mundoolun One of State's Oldest Stations, Burnt

The homestead on one of the oldest stations in Queensland, Mundoolun Station, was completely destroyed by fire about five o'clock this morning. The fire was the blazes that the owner, Mr. Douglas Fraser, and the other occupants of the house escaped only in their night attire.

How the fire started is still unknown, but Mr. Fraser was awakened about five o'clock yesterday morning. He took little notice of the fire, thinking another object fell he lay out of bed, opened the door and was met by a wall of flame. The rest of the house was filled with smoke, and the occupants were only saved by the last moments.

Famous Family Relics Gone

The family jewels and other heirlooms, which were lost when the homestead was destroyed, were insured for over $100,000.