Former Paper Chief
Praises Northern Districts And Their Newspapers

Newspapers in Northern districts have for the past 25 years been a veritable benefit to the progress of the region. Many newspapers were started by enterprising individuals who had a passion for the new medium. There were a huge number of them during the 1870s and 1880s, with at least 16 being established in the region. These newspapers not only catered to the needs of the region, but also contributed to the advancement of the community.

Should We Forgive Japan And Resume Trading?

Widespread concern and debate has been sparked in the region over the question of whether we should forgive Japan and resume trade after the war. It has been suggested that Japan has paid the price for its aggression, as there was no resistance to the country's actions. The Australian Government, therefore, has been asked if we should resume trade with Japan, which has been a subject of intense debate in the region.
