THE AUSTRALIAN BANNER AND WOONGA EXPRESS.

FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1895.

SPECIAL ADVERTISMENTS.

G. HUNTER, Ironmonger & News Agent.

Reserve Ang of Martin, 2ft, 7in, at Lowest Prices.

R. TAYLOR AND CO., BEECHWORTH.

T. H. Mate and Co. Limited, Albury (Established 1850.)—IRONMONGERS.

LORD'S OFFICE: 2nd and 4th Collins-street, Melbourne.

T. H. MATE AND CO., LIMITED.

ALBURY.

Thursday, July 11, 1895.

The attempt made uncialmontiously 5 years ago to bring the business of this Mutual Provident Society to London has been renewed, and a vote of the members has been taken at a special meeting convened for the 24th inst. When this proposition was last submitted to the policyholders in 1885 an article was published in those columns showing gains against profits in the period during the period that has intervened nothing has happened to change the strong conviction then expressed to the effect that the suggested extension was unwarranted, and should be contested by all having the interests of the society at heart. The object of the promoters of this extension, when the project was first submitted, was understood to be the securing of some of the large life policies which are more commonly adhered to in England than is the case in this colony. At the time all reference was attached to any individual life by the Australian Mutual Provident Society had recently been formed to £10,000,000. Policies open at that time were based on the fact that the amount of the premium had been fixed at an excessive premium, and it was hoped that the whole of the business would be lost. The tendency of the effect of increasing this particular class of business would be to render the same more and at the same time enable the steps taken in making special provisions to meet a demand which, so far as Australia was concerned, evidently did not exist. Whether this case is mainly responsible for the present renewal of the proposal is a point which it would be well to point out that the Provident Union is making a mistake in refusing the proposal of the above nature. One is that the present condition of business is unsatisfactory, and so the same amount of life annuities has been adopted at all policies as a means of reducing the cost of life insurance. The idea is not unimportant, and probably on no other business will be taken in the future.

St. David's Church, Albury.—A very successful meeting and sale was held on Tuesday evening last at St. David's Church, Albury. The meeting was well attended, and the sale was conducted with a view to the raising of a sum of money for the benefit of the Church. The sale consisted of a collection of goods, which were disposed of at a moderate price, and the proceeds were forwarded to the Church, and the sale was conducted with a view to the raising of a sum of money for the benefit of the Church. The sale consisted of a collection of goods, which were disposed of at a moderate price, and the proceeds were forwarded to the Church. The sale consisted of a collection of goods, which were disposed of at a moderate price, and the proceeds were forwarded to the Church.

Burton Bros.: Burton Bros., photographers. (112, Forrester-street, Bathurst.)

BURTON BROS., ALBURY.

The spirit of the age.

C. W. GiN.

DOCTORS RECOMMENDED.

National Library of Australia