The tragic happening of the last day occurred on Friday evening, when the picnic train, which left Broken Hill about 5 p.m. for the usual evening's excursion to the hill stations, was attacked by some 20 armed and masked men, who, upon the arrival of the train near the station, opened fire on the train and passengers, wounding a number of persons and killing three men.

Among the victims of the attack were three elderly men, Mr. H. Johnson, Mr. J. Wallace, and Mr. E. Cross, who were struck by bullets fired by the murderers, who were in a car on the train.

The train was traveling at a speed of 15 miles per hour when the attack was made, and the occupants were unable to evade the gunfire, which was directed at them from points along the line of the railway.

After the attack, the train was moved to Broken Hill, where the injured victims were taken to the hospital for medical treatment.
