NEW TEST FOR TOPERS.

American law is responsible for many amusing things. Recently it has resorted to printing one of the stock phrases of the trade on packages. A label pasted on New Jersey bottles claims a medicinal virtue for certain persons. Observed in a state of intoxication, the persons affected are said to be in a normal state and do not figure in court as the usual manner.

RAUCOUS OFFICIALS

For even seaporta in American armies officials all take a bit of boasting. They have just discovered a new method of passing a day in the army. They keep an official at the gangplank, who, under the command of the adjutant, makes an announcement. The new system is a great success, and is not a matter of expense, as it is done by the men.
