Supplement to the Launceston Examiner.

THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1860.

Monthly Summary of Events

"MALTA."
From 17th June to 13th July.

The Times: The Malta Post Office was opened on the 8th July, the day before the new Post Office Act came into force. The Act provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Post Office is to be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The Telegraph: The first message was sent on the 11th July, from the Post Office to the Treasury, and vice versa. The message was: "The Queen's Birthday is on the 23rd July, and on that day the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m."

The Postmaster General: The Postmaster General was appointed on the 10th July. He is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Post Office Act: The Post Office Act, which came into force on the 9th July, provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Act provides for the appointment of a Postmaster General, and for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta. The Postmaster General is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Malta Post Office: The Malta Post Office was opened on the 8th July, the day before the new Post Office Act came into force. The Act provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Post Office is to be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The Telegraph: The first message was sent on the 11th July, from the Post Office to the Treasury, and vice versa. The message was: "The Queen's Birthday is on the 23rd July, and on that day the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m."

The Postmaster General: The Postmaster General was appointed on the 10th July. He is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Post Office Act: The Post Office Act, which came into force on the 9th July, provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Act provides for the appointment of a Postmaster General, and for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta. The Postmaster General is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Malta Post Office: The Malta Post Office was opened on the 8th July, the day before the new Post Office Act came into force. The Act provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Post Office is to be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The Telegraph: The first message was sent on the 11th July, from the Post Office to the Treasury, and vice versa. The message was: "The Queen's Birthday is on the 23rd July, and on that day the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m."

The Postmaster General: The Postmaster General was appointed on the 10th July. He is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Post Office Act: The Post Office Act, which came into force on the 9th July, provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Act provides for the appointment of a Postmaster General, and for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta. The Postmaster General is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Malta Post Office: The Malta Post Office was opened on the 8th July, the day before the new Post Office Act came into force. The Act provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Post Office is to be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The Telegraph: The first message was sent on the 11th July, from the Post Office to the Treasury, and vice versa. The message was: "The Queen's Birthday is on the 23rd July, and on that day the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m."

The Postmaster General: The Postmaster General was appointed on the 10th July. He is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Post Office Act: The Post Office Act, which came into force on the 9th July, provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Act provides for the appointment of a Postmaster General, and for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta. The Postmaster General is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Malta Post Office: The Malta Post Office was opened on the 8th July, the day before the new Post Office Act came into force. The Act provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Post Office is to be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The Telegraph: The first message was sent on the 11th July, from the Post Office to the Treasury, and vice versa. The message was: "The Queen's Birthday is on the 23rd July, and on that day the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m."

The Postmaster General: The Postmaster General was appointed on the 10th July. He is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Post Office Act: The Post Office Act, which came into force on the 9th July, provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Act provides for the appointment of a Postmaster General, and for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta. The Postmaster General is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Malta Post Office: The Malta Post Office was opened on the 8th July, the day before the new Post Office Act came into force. The Act provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Post Office is to be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The Telegraph: The first message was sent on the 11th July, from the Post Office to the Treasury, and vice versa. The message was: "The Queen's Birthday is on the 23rd July, and on that day the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m."

The Postmaster General: The Postmaster General was appointed on the 10th July. He is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.

The Post Office Act: The Post Office Act, which came into force on the 9th July, provides for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta, and the management of it by the Postmaster General and his officers. The Act provides for the appointment of a Postmaster General, and for the establishment of a Post Office in Malta. The Postmaster General is to be responsible for the management of the Post Office, and to have the authority to issue directions to his officers.