The Holger-Nielsen Method Of Artificial Respiration

By ROBIN E. GRAY, B.S., P.H. (M.A., Ph.D., M.R.C.P.)

Seidler Lecturer in Physiology, University of Western Australia.

NEWS AND NOTES

Metropolitan Weather

Today's Forecast: Wind and cloudiness will increase this evening. More rain forecast. Temperatures: Today's highest 48°F (9°C), lowest 28°F (2°C). Humidity: 85%. Tomorrow: Rain and drizzle all day. Temperature: Highest 42°F (6°C), lowest 32°F (0°C). Humidity: 90%.

Empire Development

The British Commonwealth countries have recently reached an agreement on the policy of supplying foods and raw materials to the countries in the Empire with less developed economies. This agreement is aimed at promoting economic development in the countries of the Commonwealth and encouraging trade between them.

No Longer Wanted

In the argument over import prices, it does not seem to have occurred to any of the present or potential buyers of the goods that we buy that the importers themselves would benefit. The present argument is based on the idea that the importers are already well off and do not need the extra money. In addition, the importers are not being asked to contribute towards the cost of the goods they are buying.

Service Trains Late

The Secretary for Railways (Mr. C. J. E. Goggin) said yesterday that the Commonwealth railway workers had been warned that a strike was imminent if their demands were not met. The rail workers have been balloted on their demands, and the results will be made public later today.

Notice To Juries

Those persons who have been summoned by the Sheriff for jury service should be aware that the trial dates have been changed. The original dates were 9th and 10th of this month, but the new dates are 11th and 12th of this month.

By-Election Comment Attacked by MJH

Be the Editor,

I am writing to express my disagreement with your recent commentary on the by-election in the Western Australia. In your article, you state that the result is a victory for the Nationalist Party, but I believe this is incorrect.

The Nationalist Party lost the by-election in the Western Australia, and this is evident from the results. The Nationalist Party candidate received 3,500 votes, while the Labor candidate received 6,000 votes. This is a clear indication of the people's preference for the Labor Party.

I would like to urge you to re-examine your commentary and provide a more accurate representation of the results of the by-election.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

Passing Show

Ink Poisoning

A man aged 25, who was found dead in his apartment last night, has been identified as a well-known artist. The police believe that the man was poisoned by ingesting ink. The man's death is being investigated as a suspected murder.

Quick Return

Mr. J. W. Thompson, a local businessman, has returned to his home town after a successful business trip to New York. Mr. Thompson left for New York last month and spent several weeks there, during which time he conducted business and attended several social events.

He arrived back in his home town yesterday and was greeted by friends and family. He expressed his gratitude for the warm welcome and stated that he had enjoyed his trip.