COUNCILS OF PRUDENCE

These responsible for the future of France are now being faced with the question of what is best to do. Many who have been in France for a long time believe that it is better to keep the country out of the war, and they are of the opinion that the only way to do this is to form a separate government. They advocate a compromise government under the leadership of the National Assembly, and they are of the opinion that this government should be the only one that can carry out the work of the country.
