A HELP TO HOSPITALITY

The tradition of hospitaliarity which honours the Australian Hotel has come to the fore more than ever before in the past year, and it is to be hoped that this trend will continue. The hospitality of the hotel has been well known for its friendliness and its attention to detail. It is the task of the hotel to provide a comfortable and welcoming environment for its guests. The hotel staff should be trained to anticipate the needs of the guests and to provide them with the best possible service.

Work of Allied Authorities

From Godfrey Blowden, "Argus" war correspondent, recently returned from the Mediterranean.

LONDON, Wednesday

One does not have to be in Italy very long to observe that the Germans have pursued an entirely new policy here, compared with previous campaigns in Russia.

In every occupied area there is an active Board of Civil Control and a Cuban. These men are really the police force of the area.

They have been allotted a certain number of dollars for every man in the area, according to the amount of German property which has been destroyed in the area. These men are supposed to have the power to make anybody bring in his property, and if he does not bring it in he is fined.

The Germans have also introduced a system of punishment for anyone who brings in any property.
