The general Birdwood's message.

STIRRING WORDS TO WOUNDED.

(Selected Items from the London Press, April 23, 1917.)

London, April 23rd.

Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Edward Birdwood, general officer commanding the Australian Imperial Force, made an interesting announcement from Gallipoli to all the wounded Australian soldiers, informing them of the fact that he was about to leave the beach and that the troops would be returned to hospital on the island. The statement was made in the most impressive manner, and was greeted with enthusiasm by the soldiers.

The general Birdwood's message.

There were many cheers and clapping of hands when the general's message was announced. The wounded soldiers were all enthusiastic and eager to return to their homes. The general's message was received with great interest by the troops.
