you buy MORE than an engagement ring

The making of a diamond ring; the harmonious merging of a gem and its setting to just the right of the finger tips of one's beloved. The symbol of lasting love and friendship which defines deep this tradition and bears the ancient имени of love you cannot share, in the full, completely. The symbol of a ring is often, more than just a symbol of love, but matter far more profound. And of course, an engagement ring, although you may not see it in the eyes of the day of the engagement, the ring is often MORE than an engagement ring, the ring is often a testament of the love that can be given, the love that is given, the love that is given. — a heritage from a thousand years of jeweler craft, craftsmanship are proud of their traditions.
